WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28—Mrs, Annie M. Bradley, charged with having shot and killed former Senator Arthur M. Brown of Utah, in this city last December, had a quiet day in the District juli today. She arose at the usual time and expressed her gratification that she would be able to have a day of rest as the consiant attendance upon the sessions of the court has been very wearing upon her.

Early in the day she was given favorable news concerning the condition of one of her sons, who is suffering from an attack of croup in this city. The boy is stopping in a boarding house with his grandmother not fer from the court house in which the mother is being tried.

The court will tomorrow conclude with all the witnesses, according to the plans of counsel on both sides of the days. Will Not Be Called with all the witnesses, according to the plans of counsel on both sides of the case.

Mrs. Adams Will Not Be Called.
A rumor has been circulated to the effect that Mrs. Annie Adams, mother of Maud Adams the actress, whose letters to Senator Brown were read by Mrs. Bradley just before she shot the Senator witness against Mrs. Bradley.

There is no intention on the part of any of the parties in the case to call Mrs. Adams as it is not considered necessary to involve her in the trial to any greater extent than has been done.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—
With the departure of the last steamship Saturday, 75.000 foreigners will have left the United States within the week. This breaks all previous records for eastbound travel. This unparalleled exodus has attracted the attention of all interested in a solution of the immigration problem.

Gustav H. Schwab, of the North German Lloyd, a close student of the immigration question, points to these facts as an absolute refutation of the theories that the steamsnip companies are responsible for the influx of for eigners to the United States.

"The present exodus is a demonstration," said Mr. Schwab, "of American correspondent tonight, "of American correspondent tonight, "of the fact that immigration regulates, itself. When times are good and there is a demand for labor, the immigrant comes to this country. When there is a lack of work and times are bad, the immigrant labor returns to its own country.

"Immigration is due to a number of causes, it is not necessary that it should to aprificially stimulated by the steamship companies, as is claimed. When an immigrant arrives in this country and becomes a wage earner, he writes his relatives and friends glowing accounts of his steedom from taxation; from military service; of his greater carning power; of the many other advantages he enjoys, "The newly arrived immigrant himself is the one who stimulates immigration he is the advertiser of the advantages of the new country. He induces others to come. They work and save some with the object of bringing over their families and establishing homes; others to accumulate competence and others to earn the money to provide for the care of their less fortunate relatives."
